Course Package Terms

Version package-2026-11-08. Effective November 8, 2026. Golfcore LLC, 6166 Platt Ave, Woodland Hills, CA 91367, USA. Contact support@golfcore.org. These terms apply to course packages bought in the GolfCore developer portal. They sit beside the API Service Schedule; an API plan does not include a package, and a package does not include an API plan.

WHAT YOU BUY

A package is one course layout, built from our records into the formats you chose at checkout. The order records the course, layout, formats, price, terms version and time of purchase. The course page shows what the package contains and how each layer was made before you pay.

LICENCE

On payment, Golfcore grants the account that bought the package a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, non-transferable licence to use it in products you build: games, simulators, training, broadcast, visualisation, design and analysis. You may ship the package inside a product you sell or give away, including on players' devices for offline play, as long as it is embedded in that product and players cannot extract it as a separate file.

You may not:

- sell, license, share or publish the package, or any layer of it, as data on its own, or in a form that lets someone else recover it as data;
- use it to build or improve a mapping, course-data or GPS product or dataset offered to others;
- remove or alter the provenance or attribution notices it carries.

Your employees and contractors may use the package for your products under these terms.

You may transfer the licence, without our consent, to a company that acquires your business or the product the package is used in, by merger, acquisition or sale of substantially all of the related assets, if that company agrees to these terms. Tell us within 30 days so we can move the package to its account. Any other transfer needs our written consent.

COURSE NAMES AND MARKS

A package licenses geometry and data, not a course's name, logo, trade dress or other marks. Getting the course owner's permission for anything that identifies the course is your responsibility. Many products ship a course under another name.

GOLFCORE DATA

Every layer in a package is GolfCore data: built, traced, corrected and reviewed by GolfCore. Each layer states its date and whether it was measured or designed.

DELIVERY

Files are built after payment and delivered to your account, where you can download them at any time while the account exists. The delivered release is fixed; later corrections are offered as new releases. Each package is marked for the buying account, so a leaked copy can be traced to it.

PREVIEW

The course page's 3D preview is for evaluating a purchase. Capturing, extracting or reconstructing data from the preview is not permitted and is not a licence to the data.

PRICE, TAX AND REFUNDS

The price is shown on the course page, in US dollars, and charged once at checkout through Stripe, with applicable taxes shown before you pay. If no file of the package has been downloaded, you may ask for a full refund within 14 days of payment. Once a file has been downloaded, the sale is final, except where a package is materially not as described, in which case we will correct it or refund it.

ACCURACY

Packages are built from measured and modelled sources and are provided as described on the course page, without any other warranty, including fitness for a particular purpose. We do not guarantee that a course matches its current state on the ground.

LIABILITY

To the extent the law allows, Golfcore's total liability for a package is the amount you paid for it, and neither party is liable for indirect or consequential loss.

TERMINATION

If you materially breach these terms, Golfcore may end the licence for the affected package by notice; you must then stop distributing new copies. Products already sold to players before the notice are not affected.

LAW

California law governs these terms, and the courts of Los Angeles County, California have jurisdiction, except where the law of your residence says otherwise.
